

> Our Purpose

Since 2003, we have advocated for the protection of the rights of children and adolescents in Colombia and Latin America, strengthening capacities to guarantee their effective fulfillment.

We operate with absolute financial, political, and religious independence.

> How we do it: We coordinate and align directly with families and educational communities.

+900 member schools

+1.25m mothers, fathers, and caregivers

+ 70 Youth-led initiatives

According to a study conducted by Harvard University (2025), schools that are part of the Red PaPaz network show better academic results. Specifically, they demonstrate an increase of 0.29 standard deviations in mathematics and language scores on the Saber national standardized tests.
